

Should the innovation be scaled? Some illustrative cases highlighting why this is an important question

TWB – an excellent idea piloted well but the emergence of machine translation services would soon make it redundant. Instead the pivot to delivering different support services across multiple languages....

Risk of 'not invented here' – investing resources in scaling an internal project when a competing/similar innovation already exists outside the UN...